PRESS RELEASE

Kieren Clark supporting Jetstream Sportscars development

Kieren Clark, the Cambridge based dynamic Formula Renault racer has been using his driving talent to develop a new performance car with Jetstream Sportscars, the Cornwall based automotive company.

Their latest product, the all new SC250, has been tested by Kieren for dynamic performance at a number of race tracks to validate the handling capability of the new car. The car is focused at performance driver and track day enthusiast, with controllable handling equally at home on the road.

Jetstream have turned to Kieren to provide an in depth assessment of the car from a drivers perspective, evaluating limit handling, performance characteristics, as well as providing consistent data for fine tuning of suspension set ups.

“The handling of the car is fantastic”, comments Kieren, “so predictable and controllable at the limit. It’s fantastic on track, even at the moderate boost that it’s running now. I think it will be great in the hands of both expert and novice drivers with no real vices. We’ve tried it in both wet and dry conditions, and the car is equally stable in both, with the weight balance providing really sure footed grip, you can have some real fun with this car.”

With the 2 seat sports car weighing just 700Kg and its eco friendly turbocharged 4 cylinder engine producing a tractable 250hp, 0-60 times of sub 4 seconds are achieved.

All this in a spec that can be happily driven on the road, as well as the track.

To help launch the new car, at the recent MPH and Autosports Shows, Jetstream have been running a prize draw to win a track day with Kieren in the new car. The lucky winners will have the chance to find out exactly how good the SC250 is by trying out themselves, and see first hand how good it is in the hands of the young professional British racer.

We are looking for business partners to promote Kieren as a rising British star, contact us to find how you can help, and use our motorsport events for hosting client networking, or to benefit from Kieren’s driving and race tuition.
